

Sample Interview Questions

Listed below are 15 sample interview questions. You don't have to ask all of these questions in the interview, but instead can select the questions that are most appropriate to the position being filled. Each candidate for a particular position should be asked the same questions. You may want to develop specific questions related to the position that is being filled or the skills that are required. These might include more detailed questions about technical expertise, clerical qualifications or management skills.

1. Explain your education and work experience, and how this relates to the position.
2. Have you had any jobs where you have had to answer questions for people who might be angry or upset? Do you think there is a good way to handle such situations?
3. Have you ever had to decide what work should be done first? How would you go about setting priorities if you have five jobs that people wanted finished immediately?
4. Have you had any experience paying bills and keeping budget records? Describe.
5. If you were selected to fill this vacancy, how soon could you begin work?
