Seventy cents per month. That is what it will cost the average Blue Sky homeowner to support the Blue Sky Conservation District. This money will be used to plant trees, install living snow fence and enhance the Blue Sky community. With your support, the Blue Sky Conservation District will be able to represent a local voice in protecting our natural resources like wildlife habitat, water quality and open space. On November 5th, vote yes for the Blue Sky Conservation District mill levy and support local people taking care of natural resources and our quality of life.
