September 3, 2010

Dear Potential Sponsor:

The Washakie County Conservation District will be the host for the 2010 Wyoming Association of Conservation Districts Annual Convention. We are very excited to bring a convention of this size (approximately 200 attendees) to our county, and it will be held at the beautiful new Washakie Museum!

The Wyoming Association of Conservation Districts, which is made up of 34 Conservation Districts in Wyoming, will be meeting on November 15-18 in Worland to discuss topics related to conserving, enhancing and protecting the natural resources of our great state. Conservation Districts across the state assist local communities and both public and private landowners and managers to maintain, sustain, and continue to improve Wyoming's precious natural resources.

We invite you to become a sponsor for the Wyoming Association of Conservation Districts convention. The annual convention provides locally elected conservation district officials, personnel, private industry and governmental agency representatives from across the state an opportunity to gather and share information, attend educational meetings, discuss conservation issues and set the course for the future. We are hopeful that your business recognizes the valuable contribution our members make to your businesses and local communities, as well as the valuable contribution your business can make to help our convention be a great success.

Sponsorships are needed for: Dinners/Banquets, entertainment, luncheons, breakfasts, speakers, and coffee breaks. Funds are also needed for miscellaneous expenses. Any financial support will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Tori

Victoria Dietz
Washakie County Conservation District Director
